"Robert Griffin Dies Suddenly Near Oliver

Paris, Ill., Jan. 8. - (Special) - Coroner Harlan Owen of Chrisman was expected to return a verdict of death due to natural causes in the sudden death of Robert Griffin, 67 years old, at his home two miles north of Oliver in south Edgar County.

Griffin's body was found lying on the floor by his son, Theron, when he returned home from work in Paris Wednesday night. The body was taken to the Blume Funeral Home pending completion of funeral arrangements.

He was a native of Edgar County and is survived by four sons, Kenneth of Paris, Theron of the parental home, Robert of Oliver, and Donald, stationed at a U.S. naval base, and a daughter, Mrs. Lela Wheeler of Priest River, Idaho."

The 1850 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed B. Cline in the J. G. Cline household on July 31, 1850, and his age as 8 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1842.

The 1860 Census for Knox County, Illinois, listed Elvira Green in the Paul Green household on July 12, 1860, and her age as 8 and born in Illinois, indicating a date of birth in about 1852.

This record indicates that Thomas Benton Cline was born in August 1841 and that Elvira (Green) Cline was born in July 1843. However, Elvira's age was initially listed as 46 and then written over as 56 and this indicates that her date of birth may have been properly July 1853, making her age 46, and then incorrectly listed by the census taker as July 1843 and thus causing the reviewer to change her age from 46 to 56 to match the incorrect date of birth.

Illinois, Deaths and Stillbirths, 1916-1947, available from Ancestry.com, listed the death of Thomas Benton Cline, son of John Cline, on April 12, 1918, in Chester, Randolph County, Illinois:

"Name:	Thomas Benton Cline

Death Date:	12 Apr 1918

Givens was born in Maryland.

Dr. Manker was called and administered an emetic, and her life was saved. The woman was seen this morning, and gave as a reason for the attempt that her mother and she had quarreled a few days ago. The daughter left home and took refuge in a similar resort on West Maryland street. Her mother sought her, and yesterday afternoon she returned, but when she was told that she must make a living somehow, and that she was no better than the other girls, she made the attempt at suicide. At the Maryland - street resort Jennie threatened to commit suicide if she was compelled to continue a life of shame. She has been acting as housekeeper for her mother, but because of an injured hand was unable to continue the work."

On a Mechanics Lien. Her Business Was Not a Paying Venture.

A short time ago Mattie Bell, the proprietress of a gilded palace of sin at the state capital concluded to come to this city and start a branch establishment. She began negotiation for the old Dick Wilson property on South B street. The trade was successfully managed and she became the owner of the property, the transfer being made from Thomas F. Cornelius of Anderson into whose hands the property had drifted. After securing possession she immediately began preparation to remodel the property to suit her taste. Havens & Hasket, the plumbers and gas fitters were given the contract for the plumbing which amounted to about two hundred dollars. Mattie's fond anticipation of plucking dollars from the pockets of the Elwood sporting fraternity failed to materialize and she was unable to meet her bills as they become due. She then turned the property over to Mr. Cornelius and gave him a deed for it. Through their attorney, H. F. Willkie, Havens and Hasket now enter suit to foreclose a mechanics lien to collect their bill."

There remained but one thing to do, and that was to eject him from the house, and it was done without ceremony, and he was handled without gloves. He landed at the foot of the stairway wrong end up, and without touching a step in his descent. He gathered himself up and walked away and it is not known whether he was injured to any extent or not."

Ancestral Files of William Kinsey Koerber, compiled by William Kinsey Koerber, provided in part as follows with regard to Henry H. Kinsey:

"Henry H. Kinsey (May 14, 1830 Montgomery County, Ohio-July 5, 1908 Noblesville, Indiana) married July 12, 1849 to Sarah Wieland (January 28, 1831 Middletown, Frederick County, Maryland-December 2, 1877 Noblesville) in Montgomery County, OH. He married second Martha B. Pittman on August 8, 1878 in Indianapolis. Sarah was baptized on June 9, 1831 at Zion Lutheran Church, Middletown, Maryland. Barbara Wieland was the sponsor and was performed by Pastor Abraham Reck. Sarah died after suffering from a hernia. Two weeks after she died, Henry opened a slaughter house, named Henry Kinsey & Co, with Walter N. Evans and Uncle Tom Smith. He died at the home of his daughter, Minnie Lowther located on W. Maple Avenue. Both Henry and Sarah are buried at Crownland Cemetery. [42] [43] [44] [45] [46] [47] [48]

The court found in favor of the plaintiffs and ordered the land partition. The children's share contained 147 acres in total. Ancestral Files of William Kinsey Koerber, compiled by William Kinsey Koerber, also provided as follows with regard to Martha B. Kinsey:

"Henry's second wife, Martha Bathsheba was born in 1844 in Kentucky to Silas and Frances A. (Bell) Gatewood [58]. The Bedford, Trimble County, Kentucky 1870 Census listed her husband Jerry (age 50) and children: Fannie S. (age 5), Elizabeth (age 3), and Hattie B. (b. December 1869). In addition, the household contained Emma J. Pittman (age 16, occupation Nurse). After she and Henry separated, she ran a brothel in Indianapolis. She attempted suicide by taking ammonia on October 26, 1894 at her brothel on Market Street, but was given an antidote in time. [59] On October 21, 1896, a streetcar ran into the carriage she was driving. She filed suit for $25,000 in damages against the Citizens' Streetrailroad Company. [60] Martha Kinsey appeared in the 1920 Census as a widow (age 71) with her daughter, Jennie Jones (age 47). They were living in Correggo Apartments, 626 Massachusetts Avenue, Indianapolis. Jennie was listed as a widow and born in Kentucky. Martha died on June 14, 1926 in Indianapolis. Jennie published memorial classification ad for her mother in the June 14, 1931 Indianapolis Star stating that she was "Sadly Missed by Daughter

Jennie."

On February 11, 1891, Members of a demimonde; Mattie Bell, Maggie Danforth, Lillie Jones, and Ella Kehl; testified against Captain Bruce of the Indianapolis Police Department that he tried to sell diamonds to them. He was reprimanded for visiting houses of prostitution on non-official business, and was demoted. [61]

There were many other incidences at Martha's brothel, aka resort, that were covered by the Indianapolis newspapers in the first half of the 1890's. The brothel locations reported included West Market Street and 188 West Wabash Street.

The brothel was raided on January 7, 1892 with five "inmates" and two visitors arrested. The case was thrown out of court because the warrant was sworn by a hack-driver in revenge of being due two dollars. The Judge dismissed the charges stating he will not have his court turned into a collection agency. [62]

An overcoat was stolen and five men were arrested on January 17, 1892.[63] John A. Puryear, a councilman, filed suit against Mattie Bell on February 4, 1892 for damages due to the detention of some jewelry that Mattie used as collateral for $800 she borrowed from him. In the newspaper article, Mattie's brothel was referred to as "Long Branch". [64] He had bought the mortgage from Ed Harris. Mattie claimed that Puryear was charging an exorbitant amount of interest. [65]

Mattie was arrested for being a prostitute and riding in an open hack on August 15, 1892 and for selling liquor on Sunday on April 4, 1894. [66] [67] On September 5, 1892, Mort Woods attacked and bit off part of the ear M.D. Modlin of Crawfordsville at the brothel because Modlin was paying too much attention towards a particular "inmate". He was charged with mayhem. [68] A fire occurred at the Wabash Street location on November 2, 1892. The second story was gutted and $300 damage was done.[69] On December 20, 1892, Annie Taggart, one of Mattie's prostitutes, shot herself with a revolver in the lung while attempting suicide. [70] A seventeen year old girl from Greenfield was arrested for visiting a disreputable place on April 23, 1893.[71] After John L. McLoughlin found his niece in Mattie Bell's resort, he got a warrant against the house. Police ended up raiding the brothels of Effie Prosser and Bessie Bell on August 17, 1894. [72]

According to the March 18, 1895 Indianapolis News, William Preston was arrested for killing Mattie Bell's cuckoo when he was drunk. [73]

Later, Mattie Bell appeared active in Elwood, Indiana. The June 4, 1897 Elwood Free Press reported that a short time ago, Mattie Bell expanded her brothel business by opening a branch location in Elwood. She bought the Dick Wilson property on South B Street from Thomas F. Cornelius. After remodeling it, she was not able to pay bills and turned the deed back over to him. She also sued for an unpaid bill from plumbers Havens and Hasket. [74]

She appears to have stayed in Elwood. A commotion was broken up at Mattie Bell's "speak easy" on South A Street in Elwood on September 28, 1897.[75] Anson Coons, as part of a domestic dispute, filed affidavits against Julius McNutt, William Knotts, and Fred Wellbrook for renting houses for the purposes of prostitution and Lizzie Crouse, Nell Russell, Rosa Wright, and Mattie Bell for keeping a house of prostitution on January 31, 1905.[76] On June 18, 1907, the Elwood Call-Leader reported that Mattie was arrested for keeping a place of bad repute, along with one of her "inmates", Maud Cunningham. Judge Willkie fined Mattie $20 and Maud $15.[77]

By 1910, she had left Elwood and was back in Indianapolis. On February 28, 1910, Elwood native Elora Williams, who worked for Mattie as an "inmate", committed suicide. She drank carbolic acid in her room at Mattie's brothel. In the account, the article mentioned Mattie Bell as a former Elwood woman. [78]

Jennie is assumed to be the same as Laura Pittman, who was living with the Kinseys with her mother according to the 1880 Census. She attempted suicide on May 13, 1892 by taking morphine, or arsenic per newspaper headline. Jennie and her mother quarreled, and Jennie took refuge at another brothel on West Maryland Street in Indianapolis. When her mother retrieved her, she told Jennie that she needed to earn a living and she was no better than the other girls. Jennie had threaten suicide if she was forced to continue a life of shame. She had been working as a housekeeper for her mother, but could not continue due to a hand injury.[79]

In the 1900 Census, Jennie (born August 1872) was listed as the householder for 341 Court Street in Indianapolis along with housekeeper Eliza Blue, and boarders Myrtle Lewis and Fannie Walker. Jennie, Myrtle and Fannie were all listed as prostitutes for their occupations. Jennie married Charles Jones on October 12, 1902 in Marion County, Indiana. He was the son D. M. Jones and listed as a widower. By 1910, Jennie Jones was living in a room at 13 South Senate Avenue, Indianapolis. By that time, she was a widow working at keeping a rooming house for weekly roomers. She also replied that she never had any children. In 1930, Jennie was living at 404 W. New York Street, Indianapolis with a lodger, Hilda Riley, who was a stenograph salesperson. Jennie was listed as not having an occupation. In 1940 (April 29), Jennie was living alone at 1019 Linwood. Her education was through 5th grade. She died that same year.

Martha's oldest daughter was Frances (Fannie) Shotwell Pittman. She was born January 31, 1865 in Bedford, Kentucky. In 1880, she was not listed with the Kinseys, but her Census record has not been located. However, Marion County Marriage records show she married John L. Page on August 18, 1880. Both John and Fannie gave their ages as 16, even though she was 15. By the 1910 Census, she has was a widow going by Frances Pittman (age 35) in Ward 21

Chicago where she kept a lodge house. She reported that she never had children. One of her lodgers was William A. Bervill (age 52). She and William A. Beville were married on April 27, 1920 in Kane County, Illinois. They were living in Chicago Ward 23 in 1920, where she is listed as age 46 and him 61. She died on May 1, 1929 in Chicago and was buried in Graceland Cemetery on May 3.

In Crown Hill Cemetery in Indianapolis, there is a shared tombstone for the three of them: Jennie Jones 1872-1940, Frances P. Beville 1865-1929, and Martha B. Kinsey 1844 in Kentucky-1926. It is not known if Frances's body was moved from Chicago.

Another daughter, Bessie Pittman, is not included in the 1880 Census at the Kinsey residence, but on February 4, 1893, she was shoot in the temple and seriously wounded by her lover, Philip Fahrback, who then turned the gun on himself and committed suicide. He was a 24-year old bartender at English Hotel. The shooting occurred at a brothel at 172 West Market Street, across from her mother's brothel. Her mother and sister, Jennie, arrived at the scene shortly after the shooting. Philip and Bessie had shot at each at least two or three times before. [80] [81]

[58] Her daughter Jennie's marriage record in 1902 her mother's maiden name as Gatewood while the death certificate for her other daughter, Frances, gives her mother's maiden name as Bell and birthplace Lexington, Kentucky.

 Martha's oldest daughter was Frances (Fannie) Shotwell Pittman. She was born January 31, 1865 in Bedford, Kentucky. In 1880, she was not listed with the Kinseys, but her Census record has not been located. However, Marion County Marriage records show she married John L. Page on August 18, 1880. Both John and Fannie gave their ages as 16, even though she was 15. By the 1910 Census, she has was a widow going by Frances Pittman (age 35) in Ward 21 Chicago where she kept a lodge house. She reported that she never had children. One of her lodgers was William A. Bervill (age 52). She and William A. Beville were married on April 27, 1920 in Kane County, Illinois. They were living in Chicago Ward 23 in 1920, where she is listed as age 46 and him 61. She died on May 1, 1929 in Chicago and was buried in Graceland Cemetery on May 3.

ii. Elizabeth "Bessie" T. (Pitman) Roos And Her Husband Louis A. Roos

Elizabeth "Bessie" T. (Pitman) Roos was a daughter of Martha B. (Gatewood) Pitman and Jeremiah F. Pittman or Pitman. (1825 Achilles¹, Mildred², Silas³, Martha B.⁴)

The 1870 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed Elizabeth Pitman in the Jerry F. Pitman with the following household on July 6, 1870, and her age as 3 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1867.

Hoosier State Chronicles listed the following news article about Bessie Pittman, also known as Bessie Bell, dated February 5, 1893, in The Indianapolis Journal:

"Fahrbach's Deadly Aim

Shoots His Mistress in the Temple and Then Turns the Weapon Upon Himself

Mysteries Surrounding the Case, Involving a Woman's Unfaithfulness - Much Depends Upon the Weight of the Ball Removed

A few minutes before 6 o'clock yesterday morning Bessie Pittman, known as Bessie Bell, keeper of an evil resort at 179 West Market street, was shot in the side of the head and will probably die. The only witness who is known to have been present at the time of the shooting is dead and the facts attending the tragedy can only be conjectured. The man was Philip Fahrbach, a single man twenty-four years of age, bartender at the Hotel English barroom. For about two years past he has been the paramour of the woman shot, and latterly has stayed at her house, on West Market street, at times every night during the week and sometimes less frequently. Shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday morning he came to the house and went directly to the side door leading into Bessie Pittman's room, and was admitted. In a very few minutes after he entered the inmates of the house hear two shots fired in quick succession, and when they entered the room Fahrbach lay dead, with a bullet hole in the region of his left eye. There was a pool of blood upon he floor about his head. Bessie Pittman stood on the other side of the room, and blood was streaming from a bullet hole in her right cheek, just below the temple. The ball ranged upwards, inflicting a wound which will in all probability prove fatal.

The first person upon the scene after the shooting occurred was Dora Bartlett, an inmate of the house, who occupied the room adjoining that of the Pittman woman. She said that she retired about midnight the night before, and did not know what time Fahrbach came to the house. Being accustomed to his coming in late, it did not disturb her. She heard two shots fired in the adjoining room shortly before 6 o'clock, but did not at the time know the sound she heard was pistol shots. She said the sound was muffled, and she thought it was the cook breaking coal in the kitchen. Following the shots, however, she heard the Pittman woman scream, and she rushed into the room and saw both her and Fahrbach lying upon the floor. As the Bartlett girl entered the room the other cried out, "Phil has killed me and himself, too!" Going to her side, Miss Bartlett raised her head in her hands when the latter said, "Do something for Phil. Let me alone." At this she left the wounded girl and went to where Fahrbach lay upon the floor. He was lying perfectly still, but was not yet dead, and as she bent over him and spoke to him his lips moved as if in an effort to speak, but no sound was uttered, and in a few seconds he was dead.

Her Mother Summoned.

When the girls of the house realized fully what had taken place they hurried to the house of Mattie Bell, mother of the injured girl, on the south side of Market street, a few doors west of the house in which the shooting was done. Flora Winkels and Jennie Bell, a sister, notified the mother of the injury to her daughter and sent for a physician. When the mother came she rushed to the side of her daughter, who was calling piteously for "Phil," seemingly unconscious of the injury to herself. She told her mother not to worry about her, and then broke out, "Oh, my God! is he dead mother? Don't tell me that he is dead." The house soon filled with a crowd of curious spectators, and in a few minutes Dr. Earp arrived and, examining the wound, said the ball could not be probed for on account of its dangerous location. The ball, in its course, had shattered the optic nerve and ruined the sight of the right eye. Its course was upward, but the location of the ball could not be ascertained. The coroner was notified and hurried to the scene, but could get but little information from the inmates, who seemed reluctant about talking of the matter. It was decided to have them regularly subpoenaed to appear before him. Flanner & Buchanan were notified, and removed the body of Fahrbach to their morgue, on north Illinois street.

There is considerable mystery surrounding the whole affair, and some phases which seem to call for investigation. The injured woman told Coroner Beck that she let Fahrbach into her room through the side door, between 5 and 6 o'clock, and asked him as he entered where he had been all night, to which he replied: "That's none of your business, but I know what you have been doing." She said she had been doing nothing wrong, and Fahrbach stepped to the dresser on the opposite side of the room and, picking up a revolver belonging to her, fired at her and then turned the revolver toward his own head. She begged him not to shoot himself, but he fired and fell to the floor.

Trail Of Blood.

The inmates of the house all declare there were but two shots fired, but a man who slept in a house across the street says he heard, very distinctly, four reports. After the excitement attending the shooting had somewhat subsided, a trail of blood was noticed leading from Bessie's door south through the alley beside the house to Court street, where it stopped.

The inmates of the house and other persons who were among the first upon the scene, although questioned closely as to this trail of blood, could give no explanation. It is thought that it may have been made by some unknown person who was in the room when Fahrbach came and whose presence caused the shooting. Some force is given to this theory from the fact that the inmates of the house heard but two shots, while the man across the street heard four, and also from the size of the ball taken from the dead man's head. The ball is scarred and battered to such an extent that it is impossible to tell, with any degree of certainty, what its caliber was. The revolver with which Fahrbach did the shooting was a thirty-two-caliber. A theory that has been advanced is that another man was in the room, and, when Fahrbach saw the infidelity of Bessie, he shot both her and the intruding lover, who returned the fire and shot Fahrbach. If this be true, he was very close to the dead man when the shot was fired, as his face is badly powder-burned. The inmates say that nobody but Fahrbach ever called upon Bessie, but persons living in the vicinity say that a strange man, supposed to be an Ohio riverman, has been calling recently.

Yesterday afternoon Dora Bartlett and Flora Boyles Winkels testified before the coroner. Considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining a statement from the former. She was kept upon the stand for several hours, and told very conflicting stories about the state of affairs existing between Bessie and Fahrbach prior to the shooting.

Had Record With Revolvers.

It is said that during the month of October last Bessie shot at Fahrbach while he was lying on the bed, but the ball passed over his head. The Bartlett girl was questioned as to the truth of this statement, and at first stoutly denied all knowledge of it. She said if such a thing had happened, she would undoubtedly have heard of it, and she never did. Afterwards she said that about two weeks before Christmas Bessie and Fahrbach came into her room, and that Bessie slipped a revolver under her pillow, saying that "Phil" had tried to kill her, and he at the same time said she (Bessie) had tried to kill him. She also testified to numerous quarrels between them, one of which she said took place in Hoss's saloon on West Washington street, and that during this quarrel Fahrbach had choked Bessie and she had bitten the end of one of his fingers off. In her testimony she also said that Bessie had at one time shot at a girl named Millie Dehart, an inmate of the house, for being intimate with Fahrbach.

Flora Winkels, known as Boyles, testified before the coroner that she had been an inmate of the house for about a week, and that she had heard the Bartlett girl speak of a time, about the 9th or 10th of October last, when Bessie had shot at Fahrbach while he was lying on the bed, but the ball had passed over his head.

Two Bullet Holes Found.

Last night Captain Quigley and Sergeant Laporte visited the house, and by a thorough examination of the room found two bullet holes, one in the wall and one in the ceiling. The one in the ceiling is said to have been recently made, but as to the other it was impossible to tell anything as to its age. The presence of the two bullet-holes shows conclusively that none of the inmates heard all of the shooting, as they all say they heard but two shots fired.

In regard to the trail of blood leading from the side gate to Court street, the police are now of the opinion that this was made by a man who was staying at the house during the night, and who supported Bessie until assistance arrived, when he went to Cones's overall factory, on North Mississippi street, to reach a telephone. The theory of the police is that the man got blood upon his clothes and shoes while supporting Bessie, which marked the snow.

Coroner Beck last night compared the ball taken from Fahrbach with one extracted from a cartridge still remaining in the revolver with which the shooting is said to have been done. The ball taken from Fahrbach weighted eight and a half grains more than that extracted from the cartridge. The ball taken from the body of George Duncan, which is supposed to be a thirty-eight calibre, weighs just one-half grain less than that taken from Fahrbach. The ball taken from the body of Mrs. McClure, which is thought to be a thirty-two-calibre, weights twenty-six grains less than that taken from Fahrbach. August Leanty, dealer in firearms and ammunition, on West Washington street, said that it was his opinion that if Fahrbach held the revolver from which the shot was fired that killed him, his face would have been much more powder burned than it was. A revolver would powder-burn an object shot at, he said, for a distance of at least one yard. The disparity of weight between the ball in the pistol and that removed from Fahrbach's brain, adds still more to the mystery as to whether a third person was concerned in and was present at the time of the tragedy. Jealousy, it has become certain, actuated both the girl and her lover to desperate acts in the past.

Last night Bessie Pittman was still alive, and Dr. Eisenbless, who is attending her, says there is a chance for her recovery."

Hoosier State Chronicles listed the following news article about Bessie Pitman and Jennie Pitman dated February 6, 1893, in The Indianapolis News:

"The Market Street Tragedy.

Mystery Connected With the Shooting Increases - What the Inmates Say.

The further the death of Philip Fahrbach is investigated the greater becomes the mystery surrounding it. Dora Bartlett was the first witness examined by the coroner. She, it is said, knows most about Bessie Pitman's affairs. Her first statements were contradictory. She afterward stated that Philip and Bessie had often quarreled before, and that two or three times they had shot at each other. She also stated that they had shot at each other in her room on one occasion, and that the two bullets could be found, one imbedded in the door, the other in the wall. After close questioning she contradicted herself, and stated that the two bullets were fired by Bessie herself at another woman with whom she thought Fahrbach had fallen in love.

Flora Boyle Winkels, another inmate of the house, who has only been there a week, stated that she had heard the girls of the house say that Bessie Pitman had shot at Fahrbach once when he was in bed. She thought this was about the 9th or 10th of October. Bessie was drunk at the time, she said.

This morning Jessie Pitman, a sister of the wounded woman, was summoned before the coroner. She has only been an inmate of the house about a week. She stated that before this time she lived with her mother, Mattie Bell, just across the street. She had known Fahrbach for three years. She said that the former lover of her sister was one Tom Posner, who lived in Lebanon, but was in the boat business. He ran a boat on the river; she did not know what rivers, nor where he ran the boat. On the morning of the shooting Bessie Pitman was asked by the coroner where she got the revolver, and by close questioning he learned the weapon had been given to her by Tom Posner, who, she said, was a man who used to come and see her sometimes. It is this man, it is said, of whom Philip Fahrbach was jealous. It was rumored that Bessie received the visits of a river man, and that when he was in town Philip had to be content with second place in her affections. Jessie Pitman, who occupied a room adjacent to that in which the tragedy occurred, states positively that she heard four shots, although the other girls of the house say they only heard two. She also stated that between eight and ten minutes elapsed between the first and the last shot.

Many theories have been formed about the case, but all of the opinions so far have ignored the fact of the trail of blood landing across the street and up an alley on the opposite side. The doctors who have been on the case state that the trail of blood found leading away from the house was not such as could have been made from saturated garments, but must have dripped from a fresh wound.

Bessie Pitman still remains in the same condition. She is weak and suffers from pain in the wounded eye. She has eaten nothing since Saturday morning but a little soup. Unless septic poisoning sets in, the doctors say, she has a good chance to recover."

Hoosier State Chronicles listed the following news article about Bessie Pitman dated February 7, 1893, in The Indianapolis News:

"Fahrbach Mystery.

Facts Tend to Show that Bessie Pittman Was with the Hated Rival.

The mystery surrounding the shooting in Bessie Bell's brothel Saturday morning deepens with each day that passes and each day several new theories are advanced, all of which have their weak and strong points. Yesterday morning Jessie Pittman a sister of the wounded girl, was examined by Coroner Beck, and testified that the alleged steamboat captain who was Bessie's lover before her acquaintance with Fahrbach was Mr. Tom Fosner, and that he resided in Lebanon, Ind. This is the man, it is said, of whom Fahrbach was jealous. Bessie Pittman told the coroner, yesterday, that the revolver found in the room after the shooting was one that she obtained from Fosner, having given him in exchange for it a small one given her by Fahrbach. The inmates of the house claim that Fosner has not been seen for a year. An East Washington-street saloon-keeper, however, who is well acquainted with Fosner, says that he was in his saloon, on East Washington street, Friday afternoon and took a drink there. Bessie Bruner, the keeper of a brothel on East Court street, says that Bessie Pittman spent Friday afternoon at her house, but that she saw no callers during the afternoon.

The soloon in which Fosner is said to have been is not more than a block distant from Bessie Bruner's place. Persons in this city acquainted with Fosner say he is not and has not been a river man, but is the patentee of a ditch plow. The fact that Fosner was in the city Friday and seen in a neighborhood which the wounded girl is known to have visited, lends credence to the theory already advanced that a third person was in the room and wounded during the shooting, and in his flight left the trail of blood. It is said that Fahrbach spent a portion of the afternoon and night Friday with a courtesan on South Tennessee street and was drinking with her.

Dr. Earp said last night that the girl was somewhat improved, and that her temperature was lower. There is still a doubt as to the possibility of saving the sight of the right eye.

The man who stayed at the house Friday night, and who it was at first said left the trail of blood behind as he went to telephone for assistance, was at the house again Saturday night, but the coroner has not succeeded in finding him. It was reported that he was a hack-driver, but none fo the other hack-drivers seem to know him. It is now said that he is employed in some shoe factory."

also provided as follows with regard to Bessie Pittman:

". . . .

Another daughter, Bessie Pittman, is not included in the 1880 Census at the Kinsey residence, but on February 4, 1893, she was shot in the temple and seriously wounded by her lover, Philip Fahrbach, who then turned the gun on himself and committed suicide. He was a 24-year old bartender at English Hotel. The shooting occurred at a brothel at 172 West Market Street, across from her mother's brothel. Her mother and sister, Jennie, arrived at the scene shortly after the shooting. Philip and Bessie had shot at each at least two or three times before. [80] [81]

iv. Laura Or Jennie (Pittman) Jones And Her Husband Charles Jones

Laura or Jennie (Pittman) Jones was a daughter of Martha B. (Gatewood) Pitman and Jeremiah F. Pittman or Pitman. (1825 Achilles¹, Mildred², Silas³, Martha B.⁴)

Hoosier State Chronicles listed the following news article regarding Jennie Bell, daughter of Mattie Bell, dated May 14, 1892, from the Indianapolis News:

"Attempts At Suicide.

Jennie Bell and Mrs. Mollie Seeley Both Take Arsenic.

Jennie Bell, aged eighteen years, daughter of Mattie Bell, who keeps a resort at 191 West Market street, took morphine last night, with suicidal intent. Dr. Manker was called and administered an emetic, and her life was saved. The woman was seen this morning, and gave as a reason for the attempt that her mother and she had quarreled a few days ago. The daughter left home and took refuge in a similar resort on West Maryland street. Her mother sought her, and yesterday afternoon she returned, but when she was told that she must make a living somehow, and that she was no better than the other girls, she made the attempt at suicide. At the Maryland - street resort Jennie threatened to commit suicide if she was compelled to continue a life of shame. She has been acting as housekeeper for her mother, but because of an injured hand was unable to continue the work."

Hoosier State Chronicles listed the following news article about Jessie Pitman and the shooting of her sister Bessie Pitman dated February 6, 1893, in The Indianapolis News:

"The Market Street Tragedy.

Mystery Connected With the Shooting Increases - What the Inmates Say.

The further the death of Philip Fahrbach is investigated the greater becomes the mystery surrounding it. Dora Bartlett was the first witness examined by the coroner. She, it is said, knows most about Bessie Pitman's affairs. Her first statements were contradictory. She afterward stated that Philip and Bessie had often quarreled before, and that two or three times they had shot at each other. She also stated that they had shot at each other in her room on one occasion, and that the two bullets could be found, one imbedded in the door, the other in the wall. After close questioning she contradicted herself, and stated that the two bullets were fired by Bessie herself at another woman with whom she thought Fahrbach had fallen in love.

Flora Boyle Winkels, another inmate of the house, who has only been there a week, stated that she had heard the girls of the house say that Bessie Pitman had shot at Fahrbach once when he was in bed. She thought this was about the 9th or 10th of October. Bessie was drunk at the time, she said.

This morning Jessie Pitman, a sister of the wounded woman, was summoned before the coroner. She has only been an inmate of the house about a week. She stated that before this time she lived with her mother, Mattie Bell, just across the street. She had known Fahrbach for three years. She said that the former lover of her sister was one Tom Posner, who lived in Lebanon, but was in the boat business. He ran a boat on the river; she did not know what rivers, nor where he ran the boat. On the morning of the shooting Bessie Pitman was asked by the coroner where she got the revolver, and by close questioning he learned the weapon had been given to her by Tom Posner, who, she said, was a man who used to come and see her sometimes. It is this man, it is said, of whom Philip Fahrbach was jealous. It was rumored that Bessie received the visits of a river man, and that when he was in town Philip had to be content with second place in her affections. Jessie Pitman, who occupied a room adjacent to that in which the tragedy occurred, states positively that she heard four shots, although the other girls of the house say they only heard two. She also stated that between eight and ten minutes elapsed between the first and the last shot.

Many theories have been formed about the case, but all of the opinions so far have ignored the fact of the trail of blood landing across the street and up an alley on the opposite side. The doctors who have been on the case state that the trail of blood found leading away from the house was not such as could have been made from saturated garments, but must have dripped from a fresh wound.

Bessie Pitman still remains in the same condition. She is weak and suffers from pain in the wounded eye. She has eaten nothing since Saturday morning but a little soup. Unless septic poisoning sets in, the doctors say, she has a good chance to recover."

Although the article refers to Jessie Pitman, it seems clear that the article is referring to Jennie Pittman.

Ancestral Files of William Kinsey Koerber, compiled by William Kinsey Koerber, also provided as follows with regard to Martha B. Kinsey:

". . . .

Jennie is assumed to be the same as Laura Pittman, who was living with the Kinseys with her mother according to the 1880 Census. She attempted suicide on May 13, 1892 by taking morphine, or arsenic per newspaper headline. Jennie and her mother quarreled, and Jennie took refuge at another brothel on West Maryland Street in Indianapolis. When her mother retrieved her, she told Jennie that she needed to earn a living and she was no better than the other girls. Jennie had threaten suicide if she was forced to continue a life of shame. She had been working as a housekeeper for her mother, but could not continue due to a hand injury.[79]

In the 1900 Census, Jennie (born August 1872) was listed as the householder for 341 Court Street in Indianapolis along with housekeeper Eliza Blue, and boarders Myrtle Lewis and Fannie Walker. Jennie, Myrtle and Fannie were all listed as prostitutes for their occupations. Jennie married Charles Jones on October 12, 1902 in Marion County, Indiana. He was the son D. M. Jones and listed as a widower. By 1910, Jennie Jones was living in a room at 13 South Senate Avenue, Indianapolis. By that time, she was a widow working at keeping a rooming house for weekly roomers. She also replied that she never had any children. In 1930, Jennie was living at 404 W. New York Street, Indianapolis with a lodger, Hilda Riley, who was a stenograph salesperson. Jennie was listed as not having an occupation. In 1940 (April 29), Jennie was living alone at 1019 Linwood. Her education was through 5th grade. She died that same year.

In Crown Hill Cemetery in Indianapolis, there is a shared tombstone for the three of them: Jennie Jones 1872-1940, Frances P. Beville 1865-1929, and Martha B. Kinsey 1844 in Kentucky-1926. It is not known if Frances's body was moved from Chicago.

David G. Stuart"

Although this record stated that the divorce of William J. Gatewood was 6 years previously, or in about 1909, the 1910 Census indicates that he and his wife Nannie were still residing together in 1910, so the divorce was probably in 1910 rather than 1909.

William J. Gatewood has not as yet been located in the 1920 Census.

Newspaper Abstracts listed the following obituary of William J. Gatewood dated January 1925 from the Trimble Democrat, Bedford, Kentucky:

"Death of W. J. Gatewood

Mr. William J. Gatewood, died at home in Bedford last Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. Mr. Gatewood was paralyzed about three years ago, from which he never recovered, and he later developed dropsy, which resulted in his death.

Funeral services were conducted at the Bedford Methodist church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. J. E. Roberts, assisted by Rev. E. Griffy. The body was taken to the I. O. O. F. cemetery for interment. Born August 14, 1845, Mr. Gatewood was 79 years ten months and fourteen days old. On March, 1870, he was united in marriage to Miss Ema Helen Leland. Nine children, four boys and five girls were born to the union, all of whom are living except one daughter, Mrs. Van Bartlett, who died September 11, 1903. The wife and mother died December 24, 1901. The children are William C., Wilbur and Edwin Gatewood of this county; and James, of Atwood, Calif; Mrs. George Bartlett, of Moreland, Ky.; Mrs. Carter Bartlett, of Versailles, Ky.; Mrs. Henry Gividen of Sulphur, Ky.; and Mrs. Sam A. Duvall, of Taft, Calif. He also leaves twenty-one grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Two brothers survive, Mssrs. John Gatewood and Frank Gatewood, both of Bedford.

The death of Mr. Gatewood removes from our midst Bedford's oldest citizen. He is the third of the oldest citizens to pass away during the present year. Few men were better known in the county than Mr. Gatewood and he was well liked because of his jovial disposition and kindness of heart. The last rites were largely attended by sympathizing friends who gathered about his bier to pay the final tribute of respect and to weep with those who mourn. Deepest sympathy is felt for all the loves he leaves behind."

The 1850 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed Stephen Gatewood in the Cephas Gatewood household on August 14, 1850, and his age as 2 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1848.

In her letter dated September 21, 1991, Mary V. Giera enclosed family group sheets which stated that Stephen Gatewood was a son of Cephas Gatewood and Sarah (Coleman) Gatewood, was born in 1849, and died in possibly 1881.

f. Josephus Or JoeCephas Gatewood, His Wife Eugenia Davis (Hackney) Gatewood, And His Descendants

Josephus or JoeCephas Gatewood was a son of Cephas Gatewood and Sarah (Coleman) Gatewood. (1825 Achilles¹, Mildred², Cephas³)

The 1850 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed Josephus Gatewood in the Cephas Gatewood household on August 14, 1850, and his age as 6/12 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1850.

The 1860 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed Josephus Gatewood in the Sephus Gatewood household on July 15, 1860, and his age as 11 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1849.

The 1870 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed Joseph Gatewood in the Sarah Gatewood household on June 23, 1870, his age as 19 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1851, and his occupation as farm hand.

The 1880 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed Joseph Gatewood in the Sallie Gatewood household on June 23, 1870, his age as 30 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1850, and his occupation as farming, and that he was disabled.

The 1880 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, also listed Eugenia and Cornela _____ in the Sallie Gatewood household on June 23, 1870. The image of the census record is very light difficult to read. The indexing lists their surnames as Gatewood, but a correction by mlasgne stated that the surname was Hackney and a close examination of the record indicates the latter reading is correct. This reading is supported by the fact that the surname Gatewood appears on line 1 of the census page and a new surname is clearly listed on line 3 of the page where Eugenia was listed, indicating a change in surname from Gatewood. Eugenia Hackney was listed as 23 and born in Indiana, indicating a date of birth in about 1857, with no relationship to Sallie Gatewood, single, and with no occupation. Cornela Hackney was listed immediately below Eugenia, as age 2 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1878, and no state was given for the place of birth of her father. As set forth below, Eugenia Davis Hackney and Josephus Gatewood did not marry until 1881. This listing of Eugenia and Cornela Hackney in the 1880 Census and the marriage record taken together indicate that Cornela Hackney was an illegitimate daughter of Eugenia Davis Hackney by a relationship prior to the mother's marriage to Josephus Gatewood. Cornela Hackney was thereafter listed with the surname Gatewood and her given name also listed as Camilla or Comella . The marriage record of Camilla Gatewood and Curtis Allen Angell dated on November 28, 1894, in Jefferson County, Indiana, listed her maiden name as Gatewood. The death notice of Eugenia Davis Gatewood dated June 17, 1938, and published in The Indianapolis News listed her as the mother of Mrs. Curt Angell. And the death record of Comella Angell dated on December 16, 1941, in Greenwood, Johnson County, Indiana, listed her parents as Joseph Gatewood and D. Hackney and her birth on July 19, 1877, in Trimble County, Kentucky, with Curt Angell as the informant. Newspapers.com listed the following news article regarding Amanda Gatewood dated September 23, 1951, in The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky:

"An old rocker on wheels is a comfortable seat for Mrs. Gatewood and lets her get around her daughter's house.

really a chair-on-wheels, since she doesn't like the regular wheel chairs. The people of her church bought her one of them, but it wasn't so comfortable as her old straight-back rocker the family had outfitted with wheels, so she clings to it and goes everywhere in the area of Millie's four downstairs rooms.

She attributes her long life to "God's will," and the fact that she has never taken any medicine to amount to anything. She thinks it's harmful to the system.

"I don't see how folks stand all the pills and powders they take nowadays. If you want to make me real mad, just come toward me with a dose of castor oil. The folks tried it not long ago when I was feeling kinda bad, but I knew what they was up to so I said, 'It's no use, I'm not going to take it.' Finally they put some whiskey in it and I swallowed it."

Aunt Mandy thinks whisky is good to have around in case of sickness but she doesn't "hold to" the modern urge for it, although she recalls that a similar taste has prevailed throughout the years.

Neither does Aunt Mandy approve of the scarcity of clothes her sex prefers. "Why, I wouldn't think of leaving my arms bare," she said, stroking the long sleeves of her printed cotton dress. "But now the women go with bare arms and legs, and even cut the heels and toes out of their shoes. It just ain't decent. Bunnie, my son-in-law, says it's a good thing I don't get to town very often any more."

This 100-year oldster enjoys the radio and some of the modern ways of doing things but she doesn't like waxed floors or the practice of allowing dishes to dry, unassisted, after rinsing them.

"I always dry them for Millie, and they're dry, too. I don't like to see dishes crying when I set them on the table."

She recalls some of the customs of her mother's day in housekeeping. "We burned candles, made from tallow we had saved. Molded them six to a box. But we had to be saving with them and in the evening the family would sit around and talk in the light of the fireplace." Aunt Mandy like it that way.

Her family came to Trimble County after her sister Sarah Belle married a man who lived in Bedford.

"When we left Versailles I was engaged, too, but my young man said he didn't have enough confidence in himself to take care of a woman. I didn't want anyone like that," said Aunt Mandy, "so we broke up."

Aunt Mandy also remembers when the Courthouse was built and how they burned the brick for it at a kiln located where an up-to-date service station now stands, at the junction of U. S. 42 and 421.

It wasn't long after she moved until a young farmer, Frank Gatewood, won her heart and hand and the years following their marriage were busy ones. But she always found time to go to church and to insist that others do likewise.

"I had a hand in sending just about every man in Bedford to Sunday School when he was a little boy. I would come to town on Sunday morning and see groups of boys playing marbles. I got after them so much that finally I could hear them say, 'We'll have to quit and go to Sunday School. Here comes Aunt Mandy!'"

The Bedford Methodist Church has been her greatest pleasure for many years. When she was able to attend regularly no one else ever sat in the pew she preferred. She seldom missed an all-day missionary meeting, was always present for revivals and funerals. Last summer some members of the congregation managed to get her, and the chair-on-wheels, in the car and bring her to church, where she was guest of honor at a special service for older members."

"M. C. Gatewood Is Held For Mike Reagan's Death

Blow Struck During Altercation Saturday Night Results Fatally

Robbery Is Charged

Examining Trial Is Set for Tomorrow Morning Before County Judge Bullock

Charged with the murder of Mike Reagan, Morris C. Gatewood was arrested at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his hom, 324 South Upper Street, by Captain of Police James Egan and Detectives Ernest Thompson and Dudley Veal. Reagan was picked up by the Public Safety Sunday morning at 2 o'clock at the corner of Limestone and Main Streets and taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where he died yesterday at noon, without having regained consciousness. Reagan's skull was fractured from a blow alleged to have been delivered by Gatewood, who it is believed used brass knucks on his victim. An autopsy held yesterday by Coroner Leigh R. Gordon and Dr. John McGinnis showed that the skull had been fractured and that blood clot had gathered on his brain.

Gatewood's examining trial will be conducted by County Judge Bullock tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Gatewood told the police that he was 36 years of age, married and that he lived with his family at 324 South Upper Street. He did not deny last night that he had struck Reagan, but added that he was drunk and did not know what he was about.

Sales told the police that Gatewood accused Reagan of having robbed him and that he cursed him roughly before and after he struck him. Sales was sure Gatewood struck his victim with knucks or some other hard substance. He characterized the blow as a "smasher."

Mrs. Gatewood summoned newspaper men to her home on South Upper Street last night and urged them to tell the public why her husband struck Mr. Reagan.

"Mr. Gatewood had been robbed by Mr. Reagan and two other men." Mrs. Gatewood declared with great earnestness. "Please tell the people that. He had been asleep near the railroad tracks on Vine Street and when he awoke he discovered that he had been robbed of three gold watches, a pen knife and his shoes.

"In his sox feet he chased Mr. Reagan to the corner of Limestone and Main Streets, where he struck him. He did not use brass knucks or anything but his fist. His hand was greatly swollen when he was arrested this afternoon."

When asked why Mr. Gatewood carried three gold watches, Mrs. Gatewood explained that one of them was his personal property and that the other two belonged to friends.

"Morris was a sort of trader and carpenter," Mrs. Gatewood said with a slight smile, "and he was always carrying a lot of stuff around with him."

Mrs. Gatewood explained that while her husband's name was Morris C. Gatewood, he was familiarly known by his friends as "Lee" Gatewood."

GenealogyBank.com listed the further news article dated October 10, 1916, from the Lexington Leader regarding the outcome of the trial of Morris Gatewood:

"Circuit Court

Morris Gatewood Fined $50 For Killing Man

Morris Gatewood was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and fined $50 and costs in the killing of Michael Regan."

8. Virginia P. (Gatewood) Moreland, Her Husband William Moreland, And Her Descendants

Virginia P. (Gatewood) Moreland was a daughter of Mildred "Milly" (Wright) Gatewood and William Gatewood. (1825 Achilles¹, Mildred²)

On January 27, 1840, at Trimble County, Kentucky, C.O.B. 1/186 Virginia J. Gatewood, orphan minor of William Gatewood, chose Archibald Bain as her guardian:

"Virginia J Gatewood infant orphan of William Gatewood deceased being fourteen years of age Came into Court and made Choice of Archibald Bain as her guardian who took the oath required by law and entered into bond with Charles B Cook and Merryfield Colbert his Securities in the penalty of $1200 conditioned as the law directs"

This record indicates that Virginia J. (Gatewood) Moreland was born in before 1827.

The 1850 Census for Bedford, Trimble County, Kentucky, listed V. P. Gatewood in the J. Baldock household on August 1, 1850, and her age as 28 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1822.

The marriage record of Virginia P. Gatewood and William L. Moreland was dated on October 16, 1850, in Trimble County, Kentucky:

This record indicates that Virginia P. (Gatewood) Moreland was born in about 1821.

The 1860 Census for Johnson County, Indiana, listed William L. Moreland in the William H. Wishard household on July 2, 1860, and his age as 38 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1822.

The presence of Virginia P. (Gatewood) Moreland and William Latta Moreland in separate households may be explained because as set forth below, William Latta Moreland was injured in an accident shortly before the Civil War and his brother in law William H. Wishard was a physician and William Latta Moreland may have gone to him for treatment.

The Rootsweb Posting by Julia Maddox Mortenson dated on September 6, 1999, on the Trimble County, Kentucky, board stated that the Trimble County, Kentucky, Heritage, 1989, stated that the Archibald Bain Bible listed the death of Virginia P.

Moreland on July 8, 1861, at age 40.

The 1870 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, did not list Virginia P. (Gatewood) Moreland, but as set forth below, did list Milly Moreland in the Archibald Bain household on July 6, 1870, and her age as 14 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1856.

The 1870 Census for Marion County, Indiana, listed William L. Moreland in the William H. Wishard household on June 9, 1870, his age as 45 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1825, and his occupation as farm laborer.

The 1880 Census for Indianapolis, Marion County, Indiana, listed William Moreland in the William H. Wishard household on June 16, 1880, his relationship as boarder and brother in law, his age as 55 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1825, his marital status as single, and his occupation as assisting in home.

The death record of William Latta Moreland was dated on May 13, 1906, in Indianapolis, Marion County, Indiana:

Newspapers.com listed the following obituary for William L. Gatewood dated May 14, 1906, in The Indianapolis Star:

"Death Of Octogenarian.

William L. Moreland Came to Indianapolis in 1828.

William L. Moreland, one of the oldest residents of the city, died at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. William H. Wishard, 506 North Capitol avenue, at 6 o'clock yesterday morning after an illness of several years.

Mr. Moreland was 80 years old, and the greater part of his life had been spent in this city. For several years he had made his home with Dr. Wishard, to whom he was much attached.

In 1828, at the age of 3 years, he came to Indianapolis with his father, the Rev. John R. Moreland, who was one of the ministers of the First Presbyterian Church, and in his time one of the prominent men of his church

William L. Moreland's boyhood days were spent in Indianapolis, but when he became a young man he left the city to interest himself in navigation on the Mississippi River, becoming a mate and later a captain on a steamboat on that river, where he was employed for a number of years. Shortly before the civil war he was injured, and he had suffered from the injuries more or less since that time.

Mr. Moreland's wife died several years ago, and no children survive. Four grandchildren, however, are living, all residents of Kentucky. Arrangements for the funeral had not been completed last night."

Newspapers.com also listed the following obituary of William L. Moreland dated Mary 14, 1906, in The Indianapolis News:

"William L. Moreland Dead

He Had Lived In This City for Many Years.

William L. Moreland died yesterday morning at the house of his brother-in-law, Dr. W. H. Wishard, 506 North Capitol avenue, with whom he had made his home for about forty years. His sister, Mrs. Wishard, died some months ago and he was the only surviving member of the family of his father, the late Rev. John R. Moreland, who came to this city in December, 1828, and assumed the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

William L. Moreland was born in Paris, Ky., in June, 1825. He spent many years of his life as a steamboatman on the Ohio river, and was injured in an accident that made him an invalid for the greater part of his life. He is survived by four grandchildren who live in various places in Kentucky. He was a member of the Seventh Presbyterian church, and the Rev. D. A. Heron, of that church, will preach the funeral at his home, Wednesday afternoon. The burial will be at Crown hill cemetery."

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the child of Virginia P. (Gatewood) Moreland and William Latta Moreland was the following:

E. Ann Or Nancy Or Nancy Ann (Wright) Johnson And Her Husband Benjamin Johnson

Ann or Nancy or Nancy Ann (Wright) Johnson was a daughter of 1825 Achilles Wright of Oldham County, Kentucky, and Nancy (____) Wright. (1825 Achilles¹)

The marriage record of Ann Wright, spinster, and Benjamin Johnson was dated on October 3, 1799, at Amherst County, Virginia, with the consent of her parents Achilles and Nancy Wright and George Wright as surety:

"Whereas Benjamin Johnson and Ann Right hath consented together in Marrige we the parrents of the Said Ann Right do give a free consent to their Marrige given from under our hands this Second day of october 1799

Test	Achillias Wright
Test	Nancy Wright
James Wright

Signed & ackd)	Benjn Johnson
in presence of)	George Wright"

The will of Achilles Wright dated January 17, 1824, and probated in September 1825 at Oldham County, Kentucky, W.B. 1/34 listed Nancy as one of his children:

". . . . Item first. My will and desire is that my son Samuel and my daughters Nancy and Elizabeth have no more of my estate because they have had their equal portion each of them having had two negroes each. . . ."

In her letter dated June 28, 1988, Mary H. Williams enclosed family group sheets which stated that Nancy Wright was a daughter of Achilles Wright and Nancy (____) Wright.

In her letter dated September 21, 1991, Mary V. Giera enclosed family group sheets which stated that Nancy Wright was a daughter of Achilles Wright and Nancy (____) Wright and married Benjamin Johnson on October 3, 1799.

The Wright Family Workbook, Volume 9/1, stated that Nancy Ann Wright was a daughter of Achilles Wright and Nancy (____) Wright and married Benjamin Johnson on October 3, 1799, at Amherst County, Virginia.

The surname Johnson is even more common than Wright and makes the tracing of Benjamin Johnson difficult. The following records may relate to Benjamin Johnson who married Nancy Ann (Wright) Johnson, but further research will be required to confirm this identification.

The 1813 Tax List for Henry County, Kentucky, listed Ben Johnson with the following property:

This record indicates that Nancy Ann (Wright) Johnson and Benjamin Johnson were born between 1775 and 1796, which is consistent with their marriage in 1799.

On December 15, 1823, Oldham County, Kentucky, was formed in part from Henry County, Kentucky.

On February 20, 1828, at Oldham County, Kentucky, D.B. A/67 a deed to a lot in Brownsville to Benjamin L. Johnson from Alex McCardie was recorded.

This record indicates that Nancy Ann (Wright) Johnson and Benjamin Johnson were born between 1780 and 1790, which is again consistent with their marriage in 1799.

On November 4, 1831, at Oldham County, Kentucky, D.B. B/58 a deed to a lot in Brownsville from Benjamin L. Johnson of Putnam County, Indiana, to Alexander McCardy was recorded. This record indicates that Benjamin L. Johnson moved from Oldham County, Kentucky, to Putnam County, Kentucky, in 1831.

Minutes of the Deer Creek Baptist Church in Putnam County, Indiana, in a membership list apparently for the period from 1823 to 1892 listed Benjamin L. Johnson as ejected.

Parke County, Indiana, is immediately adjacent to Putnam County, Indiana, and the 1860 Census for Parke County, Indiana, listed Benjamin Johnson with the following household on June 23, 1860:

This record indicates that Benjamin L. Johnson was born in about 1776 in Virginia, which is again consistent with the marriage of Ann Wright and Benjamin Johnson in 1779 in Amherst County, Virginia.

Findagrave.com listed the gravestone of Benjamin Johnson in the Clear Run Cemetery, Bridgeton, Parke County, Indiana:

"Benjamin Johnson

Died
Jan. 2, 1864
Aged about 90 ys"

This record indicates that Benjamin Johnson was born in about 1774, which is reasonably consistent with the marriage and census records set forth above.

While the above documentation appears to relate to the same person, further research will be required to confirm the identification of Benjamin L. Johnson as the same person as Benjamin Johnson who married Ann Wright.

In her letter dated June 28, 1988, Mary H. Williams enclosed family group sheets which stated that Lucinda Ann Wright was a daughter of Achilles Wright and Nancy (____) Wright and married Benjamin Johnson on October 3, 1779, in Amherst County, Virginia. However, this appears to be a confusion of Ann and Lucy Wright and their marriages.

In her letter dated September 21, 1991, Mary V. Giera enclosed family group sheets which stated that Lucy Wright was a daughter of Achilles Wright and Nancy (____) Wright and married Lewis Mays on March 3, 1804, in Amherst County, Virginia, and that Lucy (Wright) Mays and Lewis Mays had the following children:

- 1) Milly G. Mays, and
- 2) Jane Mays.

The Wright Family Workbook, Volume 9/1, stated that Lucy Wright was a daughter of Achilles Wright and Nancy (____) Wright, married Lewis Mayes on March 3, 1804, at Amherst County, Virginia, and died before 1849, that Lewis Mayes's will was probated in 1850 at Trimble County, Kentucky, and that Lucy (Wright) Mayes and Lewis Mayes had the following children:

- 1) Milly G. (Mayes or Mays) Lane, and
- 2) Jane (Mayes or Mays) Lane.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of Lucy (Wright) Mays and Lewis Mays were the following:

- 1) Jane (Mays) Lane, born in about 1805 in Kentucky, and
- 2) Mildred "Milly" G. (Mays) (Lane) Norvell, born in about 1807 or 1808 in Kentucky.

1. Jane (Mays) Lane, Her Husband Joseph Henry Lane, And Her Descendants

Jane (Mays) Lane was a daughter of Lucy (Wright) Mays and Lewis Mays. (1825 Achilles¹, Lucy²)

This couple has been discussed above in connection with the descendants of Nelson W. Mays and the reader is referred to that section for further information on this couple and their descendants.

2. Mildred "Milly" G. (Mays) (Lane) Norvell, Her Husbands Nelson W. Lane And William Y. Norvell, And Her Descendants

Mildred "Milly" G. (Mays) (Lane) Norvell was a daughter of Lucy (Wright) Mays and Lewis Mays. (1825 Achilles¹, Lucy²)

This couple has been discussed above in connection with the descendants of Nelson W. Mays, but since Mildred "Milly" G. (Mays) (Lane) Norvell had further descendants by William Y. Norvell, the material regarding Mildred "Milly" G. (Mays) (Lane) Norvell is repeated here.

The marriage record of Nelson W. Lane and Mildred "Milly" Mays was dated on February 16, 1831, in Oldham County, Kentucky:

On January 20, 1833, in Oldham County, Kentucky, Nelson W. Lane acted as a witness to the consent of Joseph Lane to the marriage Susan F. Lane and Winston J. Griffin.

On February 9, 1837, Trimble County, Kentucky, was formed in part from Oldham County, Kentucky.

This record indicates that Nelson W. Lane had died before December 18, 1838. The joinder of Lewis Mays as surety on this marriage bond indicates that Mildred "Milly" G. (Mays) (Lane) Norvell was a daughter of Lewis Mays.

William Y. Norvell has not as yet been located in the 1840 Census.

The 1850 Census for Trimble County, Kentucky, listed William Y. Norvell with the following household on September 9, 1850:

Newspapers.com listed the following biography of John P. Norvell dated on February 23, 1885, in The Indianapolis Sentinel:

"Mr. John P. Norvell

is the renowned abstractor of landtitles in this part of Illinois. His abstract books for Vermilion County are the most complete to be found and with reasonable charges for the best work he gets the business. He has been fourteen years in his present calling, and it might be presumed that in that space of time he could have absorbed the knowledge of titles to which he lays claim; but when it is known that Mr. Norvell is a lawyer and a man of more than ordinary intellectual grasp it might be as well to say: "Good morning, Mr. Norvell, you lead in your line." To his business of abstractor he has added that of fire insurance, and for the past three years he has been the Assessor and Collector for Danville Township, in which this city is situated. He has therefore plenty of business to keep him busy, and perhaps, in his way, he is of more importance to Danville than are most others of greater pretensions. He has resided here for the past eighteen years, is a native of Trumble County, Kentucky, and is forty six years of age. During the war he served four years and three month as Quartermaster of the Fifty-fourth Illinois Infantry. He went in as a Democrat, came out with his political faith unshaken, and is still an adorer at the shrine of Jackson. So prominent in the field of politics is the subject of this sketch that the Postmastership of Danville will be given to him if the request of his neighbors and a host of acquaintances throughout the State be harkened to by the incoming administration. Mr. Norvell has served as a member of the Board of Aldermen from his ward, has been foremost in the councils of his party, and is a Mason in the thirty-second degree. His record reads like this: Grand Standard Bearer Grand Commandery K. T., III.; Past Grand High Priest, III.; Past Emt. Com. Athelstan Commandery, No. 45 K. T.; District Deputy Grand Master, Illinois; Oriental Consistory A. A. S. Rite, Chicago. There is not a lodge in the State some of whose members are not acquainted with John P. Norvell, both as a brother and as a man of sterling qualities. Fellowship of the loftiest kind is native to him, and when cultivated in his school of surroundings and thoughts it serves to lift a man clear out of the mire and methods that nurture selfishness. The amenities of life and virtues that look better in acts than they sound in speech are the things he has cultivated. His is a public spirit. he entertains without gush, but with warmth and an eye to the practical. he is brim full of good nature and good humor, can sing a hymn or a comic song, and his stories are ever new. He is a combination of special features, and circumstances seem to unite in his favor. His methods are known of, and his position on every question can be determined in advance. He is therefore outspoken, frank in his dealings, and is not a time-server in any sense. Of these things and many more in his case, the Sentinel Recording Angel is a witness and testifier, and he writes them down in the book of a great Democratic newspaper that in the accounting time John P. Norvell may be asked to move onward and upward into the embraces and special companionship of the best men on earth, and to enjoy the good things of life as prepared with an eye to the eternal fitness of things.

Souvenir Of The Semi-Centennial Of The Grand Royal Arch Chapter Of Illinois, published in 1900, included the following biography of John P. Norvell:

"Biographical Sketches

JOHN P. NORVELL.

Grand High Priest, 1881.

Companion Norvell was born in Trimble county, Kentucky, November 9, 1839, and died in Chicago, December 14, 1893. Coming to Illinois in his youth, he made his home in Coles county, where he entered the service of his country in 1861 and served four years in the Fifty-fourth Regiment of Illinois Volunteers, serving as quartermaster during the last year. After the close of the war he made his home in Danville and served his neighbors as Alder man in the City Council, and was appointed Postmaster by President Cleveland in 1885.

Companion Norvell's Masonic history is a brilliant one. He was made a Mason and raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason in Olive Branch Lodge, No. 38; was elected Master in 1871, and continued in that position until the close of 1876. He was exalted to the Royal Arch in Vermilion Chapter, No. 82, September 11, 1871, and served his Chapter as High Priest from the beginning of 1873 to the end of 1878. The orders of Knighthood were conferred on him in Athelstan Commandery, No. 45, which body he served as Eminent Commander in 1880 and 1881. At the annual convocation of this Grand Chapter in 1873, Companion Norvell was elected Grand Master of the First Veil, serving through all of the gradations of office until he reached the exalted position of Grand High Priest, where he served the Craft with conspicuous ability, receiving the hearty commendations of his Companions. His face was a familiar one at all of our meetings, and to meet him was a genuine pleasure. Saturated with human fellowship, he loved his fellow man, and was loved in return. Open, generous and true, he fastened his friends with hooks of steel, making his loss a personal one to those who were fortunate enough to know him. His body was laid to rest at Danville by the loving hands of his Masonic brethren, and his memory is engraved on their hearts to be cherished until they follow him into the future life.

—Report on obituary in Grand Chapter."

Owing to business conditions he will probably re-enlist after his present term expires."

Last week John Felton arrived here from Mare Island, having been honorably discharged after having finished a six year enlistment in the United States navy. He is now making his mother, Mrs. Grace Sacry, an extended visit and as he has a 90-day period to consider whether he wishes to re-enlist at his old rating of second-class cook he is going to give it careful study. While in the navy John sailed the seven seas, but he denies the allegation that he has a wife in every port."

The driver of the car drove in front of the train, which was moving at about 20 miles an hour and the train went about 170 feet before it could be stopped. Mrs. Felton was thrown out of the car and killed instantly and her male companion died shortly afterwards. "Wesley Hopper Dies At S. R.

Wesley Lee Hopper, former Petaluman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hopper, and said to be the first wite child born in Sonoma county, passed away at his home at Santa Rosa Tuesday after a long illness, and will be laid to rest in the family plot at Cypress hill cemetery, Petaluma, near the graves of his late father and mother. He had been ill for several months. For many years he was a frequent visitor in this city, the family home being between here and Santa Rosa and he did much trading here in years gone by. He had relatives in this city, also, the family being among the earliest settlers in Sonoma county.

Mr. Hopper was the first wite child to be born in Sonoma County. He was 70 years, two months and ten days old, and first saw the light of day in a little log cabin on his father's ranch in Blucher valley, near Sebastopol. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hopper. His father came to Sonoma county in 1846 and was one of the best known pioneers in this section of the State.

The greater part of his life the deceased devoted to agriculture. For the past 20 years he had been a resident of Santa Rosa. He was widely known and to his many friends he was "Wes" Hopper.

Mr. Hopper was an old time member of the Santa Rosa Parlor No. 28, N. S. G. W. and was a native son of the golden west. He most interestingly recalled many stirring incidents of pioneer days in this county and section of the state and was well informed as to the early pioneers.

Mr. Hopper is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nellie Hopper, and by the following children: Mrs. Geo. Siensen, of Calistoga; Dorothy H. and Harry Wesley Hopper of Santa Rosa; L. H. Hopper of Colusa, and he was the father of the late W. Tomas Hopper of Santa Rosa. he was the brother of Mrs. Eliza Cook of Santa Rosa; J. W. Hopper of Oakland; Henry T. Hopper banker of Ukiah, and Mrs. W. Smith (Rose Hopper) of Seattle. He is also survived by three grand children and two great grand children. There are also many nieces and nephews, cousins and other relatives."

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nellie Hopper, and these children: Mrs. George Siensen of Calistoga, Dorothy Helen Hopper and Harry Wesley Hopper of Santa Rosa, and L.H. Hopper of Colusa."

Newspapers.com listed the following news article regarding N. A. Norvell dated April 9, 1915, in the Journal Gazette, Mattoon, Illinois:

"Grocer Norvell Puts Highwayman To Rout

Hurls Scale Weight at Intruder, Doing $2.75 Worth of Damage to the Front Door

"I want your money; I'll kill you if you don't give it to me."

This is what a dirty-faced man said to N. A. Norvell, proprietor of a little grocery store located at 301 South Thirty-second street, Thursday night at about 7:40 o'clock, immediately following his purchase of a five-cent cut of plug tobacco.

The robber pointed at the grocer something that looked like a revolver. A masked man, short of stature, stood just outside the store entrance, ready to back up the request of the man inside.

Norvell somehow, he cannot explain why, came to the conclusion that the holdup man did not have a revolver, despite his threats, and retreated from the front of the store to where the scales are located. He then picked up two of the weights used on the scale and threw them at the intruder.

The holdup man made a hasty departure from the store. One of the weights thrown by Norvell, instead of hitting the robber, crashed through the door, doing considerable damage, the repairs costing $2.75.

Norvell was alone at the time of the holdup and did not report it to the police. It is believed the two men passed the night in a barn near the Norvell store, having been seen leaving the place this morning. "Dode" Johnson, who lives near the Norvell store, claims the same men robbed him of some tools."

Newton A. Norvell Found at Early Hour, Suffering From Exposure - Temporarily Unbalanced.

Newton A. Norvell, a grocer at 301 South Thirty-second street, was found in a field on the William Myers farm, in Western avenue, about seven o'clock this morning, suffering from exposure, as he had been wandering aimlessly about, while in a temporarily unbalanced condition, during the greater part of the night. He had on no shoes and scarcely any clothing, and he was covered from head to foot with mud.

Nr. Norvell was found by Patrolman Smith, who had been asked to search for the missing man. He was brought to police headquarters and then taken to his home, where he was given medical attention.

Mr. Norvell has been suffering from declining health for the last year or more. It is stated that once before some time ago he left his home during the night and wandered about until found the following morning. He managed to get out of his home about 11:30 o'clock Sunday night unobserved by members of his family. When his absence was noted, a search was immediately begun.

The attending physician is of the opinion that the afflicted man will recover his former health, although his condition today is sufficient to cause alarm to his family."

Matton Grocer Passes Away There Sunday - Body Brought Back to Mattoon for Burial.

Newton A. Norvell, a grocer of 301 South Thirty-second street, who was committed in the hospital for the insane at Kankakee at recent date, passed away at that place on Sunday. His body arrived in Mattoon this morning at 7 o'clock and was taken to the Campbell morgue. Later it was removed to the family residence.

Mr. Norvell's death, according to the report of the attending physician, was due to organic heart trouble. he had been in failing health for several years, but his condition did not become serious until a few weeks ago. Just prior to being committed to the state hospital he eluded the vigilance of members of his family and wandered away from home. After being exposed to the cold weather for about 12 hours, he was found in a cornfield west of the city.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and burial will be made in Dodge Grove cemetery. Dr. Charles Boaz will conduct the services.

Mr. Norvell was born in Tremble county, Kentucky, on December 13, 1846. He was a resident of Mattoon for about forty-five years and had a wide acquaintance. He had worked in connection with a grocery store since the age of twenty-one years. Since 1912 he had owned and operated a store of his own at 301 South Thirty-first street.

The marriage of Mr. Norvell and Miss Martha Sewell took place in this city in 1878. To them was born one child, Bertha, whose death occurred in 1901. In addition to the widow, one brother, a resident of Denver, Colo., survives.

Mr. Norvell was a member of the Modern Woodmen lodge. The members of that organization probably will attend the funeral services."

This record indicates that Louis Preston Norvell was born in December 1857 and that Elizabeth S. (Fillinger) Norvell was born in March 1866. However, the date of birth of Elizabeth would have made her only 11 years old at the time of her marriage and so is a mistaken entry.

GenealogyBank.com listed the following news articles regarding Elizabeth S. (Fillinger) Norvell and a suit for slander filed against her:

August 9, 1912, in the Denver Post, Denver, Colorado:

"Woman Has $4,000 slander Suit Against Wife Of Principal

Mrs. Titley Says Mrs. Norvell Started Gossip That She Was Embezzler and Son a Drunkard - Asks Body Judgment.

Gossip comes high in the 500 block on Elati street - at least, the kind of gossip that is "peddled" over the fence in whispers.

Mrs. Louis P. Norvell, wife of the principal of the Washington school and who has lived at 533 Elati street for twenty years, thinks so, for she has just been made the defendant in two $2,000 damage suits brought by Mrs. Lavinia A. Titley, who operates a china painting studio at 515 Elati street, and her 22-year -old son, Harold, an employe of the Denver Rock Drill company.

According to Mrs. Titley and her son, the defamatory remarks were made by Mrs. Norvell to Mrs. William J. Cranor, who lives at 563 Elati street, in the course of a neighborly chat, and Mrs. Cranor went to Mrs. Titley and told her what Mrs. Norvell had said. The filing of the suits followed.

One complaint states that Mrs. Norvell said that "Harold Titley was drunk every night and spent his time in the bad lands," and the other complaint says that Mrs. Norvell said that Mrs. Titley had embezzled the money left her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jane Titley, 88 years old.

According to Mrs. Titley, "thief" and "embezzler" were the mildest terms applied to her by Mrs. Norvell, but she says she left the other charges out of the complaint. She said that when her husband died, six years ago, he left $1,000 for the support of his aged mother, and that it was this money Mrs. Titley had been accused of embezzling.

"Mrs. Norvell even went so far as to go to the Denver National bank and try to find out how much of that $1,000 I'd spent," said Mrs. Titley. "Grandmother Titley is very old and childish, and she tells things to the neighbors, but no one believes her but Mrs. Norvell. The Norvells have lived here for twenty years, and the neighbors are all afraid of her because of the way she talks. My son gives me all he makes except $2 or $3 a week, and he couldn't be much of a sport on that."

"The Titleys are bringing this suit in revenge - only revenge and nothing more," said Mrs. Norvell. "They have never been popular in the neighborhood and they are trying to blame it on us to make trouble. They've only lived in the block three years, and we've lived here twenty. I don't know the Titleys and I don't want to. They can bring suit if they like."

The Titleys pray that , in default of paying over the $4,000, Mrs. Norvell shall be sent to jail for a year.

Mrs. Cranor, the main witness for the Titleys, had not spoken to the Norvells for five years, Mrs. Titley said, until Mrs. Norvell made the special pilgrimage to enlighten Mrs. Cranor as to the character of the Titleys."

July 2, 1914, in the Denver Post, Denver, Colorado:

"Witness' Memory Fails; Case Lost

Suit for Slander Dropped and Judge Intimates Somebody Didn't Tell Truth.

Failure of the plaintiff's chief witnesses to tell on the witness stand the story which they were expected to tell caused Mrs. Lavinia L. Titley, 515 Elati street, to lose a suit in which she demanded $2,000 for alleged slander from Mrs. Louis P. Norvell, 533 Elati street, in the county court this morning. In granting the defendant's motion to dismiss the suit, Judge Rothgerber stated from the bench that he believed someone in the case had not told the truth, and he expressed regret that he was compelled to grant the defendant's motion.

Mrs. Titley sued because, she claimed, Mrs. Norvell had stated at the home of Mrs. William J. Cranor, 563 Elati street, that she (Mrs. Titley) had "embezzled old lady Titley's money." It was Mrs. Cranor and her daughter who could not remember what had occurred at their home and what had been said by Mrs. Norvell."

July 3, 1914, in the Denver Rocky Mountain News, Denver, Colorado:

"Loses $2,000 Libel Suit

Witnesses Fail to Appear Against School Principal's Wife.

Because the only witnesses who were supposed to have heard the alleged statements refused to testify for her when her case came up for trial in the County court this morning, Mrs. Levina Titley, a painter, who sued Mrs. Louis P. Norvell, wife of the principal fo the washington school, for $2,000 damages on a charge of slander, lost her suit.

The court held that testimony already adduced was not sufficient to establish a case and the complaint was dismissed.

Mrs. Titley charged Mrs. Norvell had slandered her during a gathering at the home of mutual friends."

The Santa Fe Trail Chapter of the American Business Women's Association named Mrs. Florence Norvell as the "Woman of the Year" at a dinner meeting at La Fonda. Mrs. Norvell is a charter member of the group and its present treasurer.

Colonel Margaret Johnson, a member of the local group who is the National Woman of the Year for all the affiliated groups in the United States, made the presentation of Mrs. Norvell as the Santa Fe group's choice for its "Woman of the Year."

The American Business Women's Association is an educational organization whose membership is limited to women in the business world. The group aims to better the position of women in the business world and to help them develop their capacities to the fullest.

The Santa Fe group chose Mrs. Norvell as their "Woman of the Year," for they feel she best typifies the combination of intelligence, femininity, civic-mindedness and job competence necessary for the successful woman in business. For the past eight and one-half years Mrs. Norvell has been private secretary for the McElvain Oil Company.

Mrs. Norvell is a native Santa Fean, the oldest daughter of the late E. L. and Alta Wheeler. She has two sisters, Mrs. Ted E. Jones of California and Mrs. Jacque Simons of Albuquerque and a brother, L. E. Wheeler, also of Santa Fe.

After her marriage to the late Clyde Norvell, Mrs. Norvell moved to Albuquerque. The couple's two sons, Richard and James, were born in Albuquerque. Both sons are now married and work for the Highway Department's Albuquerque office. Mrs. Norvell also has a grandson and a granddaughter. She returned to Santa Fe to make her home about ten years ago.

In addition to her duties as treasurer of the American Business Women's Association, Mrs. Norvell is past president of the Rebekahs and is now serving the group as recording secretary; organist for Amaranth's; secretary of Co-Nik-Ta-Ha, or truth seekers, of St. John's Methodist Church; member of the Esther Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and teacher of the second grade Sunday School class of St. John's Methodist Church. Mrs. Norvell has taught this Sunday School class for a number of years.

Her hobbies are knitting, crocheting, cooking and playing the organ. Mrs. Norvell is an accomplished organist and often plays for the groups of which she is a member in addition to giving impromptu concerts for her family and many friends."

"Wilson A. Campbell, of Holden, was born in Lafayette County, this state, November 10, 1830, and is a son of Tandy and Mary (Wright) Campbell, both of whom were natives of Virginia, where they were married and where three children were born. Bates County News, available from Rootsweb, listed the following obituary dated June 12, 1890, from The Adrian Journal:

"Hutchinson, Sarah Elizabeth

One of the saddest duties of life is to record the death of the dearly beloved. It may be a true friend, a loving and affectionate mother, a devoted wife, a gentle and sympathetic companion. Such was Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Hutchinson, who died in Pleasant Hill, Mo., on the 2nd day of June, 1890, in the 46th year of her age, from the effect of an abscess on the lungs, super induced by la grippe. It is hard to realize that our loved one is gone, that the golden bowl is broken, the silver cord loosened, the precious link that connected the family circle severed, to be united no more on earth; but we most keenly feel the truth when we gaze upon the vacant chair, hear no more her pleasant voice, see no more her familiar face and form-oh, how we miss her; how deeply we feel our loss! Yet, we feel strengthened and comforted and better able to bear this great sorrow, by the hope and assurance that we shall meet her again in that blissful home to which she has gone. During the last two weeks of her illness, and during which she suffered the most intense agony, she was attended by Drs. Grand & Lee. It would be impossible for any to be more kind and attentive than they were; one or the other was with her day and night, and they did all in their power, all that mortals could do, to restore her and alleviate her great sufferings; but unfortunately, when she was placed in their care, she proved to be beyond the reach of medical skill. Kind friends administered to her and were constantly by her side. She retained her consciousness up to her last breath. The last few moments of her life were tranquil and she dropped to sleep as peacefully and sweetly as a weary child. She was born near Marshall, in Saline county, Mo., in the year 1844, and was a daughter of Sarah Elizabeth and Jefferson Campbell, and was married to Harry C. Hutchinson at Platte City, Mo., in 1860. When quite young she professed religion and lived up to it by precept and example. For a number of years and up to the time of her death, she was identified with the M. E. church, South, in whose behalf she was a zealous worker, always among the first to respond to the cry of distress or the wants of the sick and suffering. She was particularly attached and devoted to the members of her Sunday School class, and one of her last wishes was that she might greet them on the "Shining Shore of the Better Land." She leaves a husband and three grown children to mourn her loss. The funeral services were held at the M. E. church South, in this city, conducted by the Rev. I. S. Smith, after which the body was laid to rest in our beautiful cemetery. -- The Adrian Journal, June 12, 1890, Page 4 column 2, Death"

Chronicling America, Historic American Newspapers, available from the Library of Congress, listed the following obituary for Harry H. Hutchinson dated January 26, 1899, in The Butler Weekly Times, Butler, Missouri:

"Passed to His Reward

Harry H. Hutchinson, a printer, connected with the Butler papers for a long term of years, died at Clinton, Mo., on last Friday evening. He was born at Columbus, Ohio, in 1831, was married at Platte City, Mo., in 1864, to Elizabeth Campbell. He leaves three children, W. J. Hutchinson of Nevada, Mrs. W. J. Donohoe of Clinton and Mrs. O. M. Lukenbill of Pueblo, Col.

It is said of the late Mr. Hutchinson that he and W. H. Adams established the first newspaper in the state of Kansas, the Journal, at Leavenworth. It was first published under an elm tree. Subsequently he started the Platte City Atlas, the plant being destroyed during the war. He was one of the oldest practical printers in the state.

Our citizens remember him as a kind hearted, genial old gentleman, who attended strictly to his own affairs and was kind and accommodating to all with whom he came in contact. He was very devoted to his family and the loss of his wife, which occurred ni Pleasant Hill a few years ago, was a great blow from which he never fully recovered. It can be said of him that he was an honest man and good citizen, and what was given him to do, he did with all his might. May his reward be a "fat take" in the other world."

Genealogy of the Wisdom family, 1675 to 1910, compiled by George W. Wisdom and published in 1910, stated that:

"(74) Andrew Jackson Wisdom was born in the State of Tennessee on the 14th day of May, 1834, and came to Benton County with his parents in the latter part of 1835. He was first married on the 14th day of January, 1858, to Miss Nancy Campbell, daughter of Nicholas Campbell who was a farmer and stock dealer. His first wife died leaving four children, two of whom are now living: (81) W. W. Wisdom, of Lincoln, Missouri, and (82) Mrs. Susan Fristoe, of Windsor, Henry County, Missouri. Andrew Jackson was afterwards married twice, as you will note from the enclosed "obituary." He had no children by either of his two last wives. He died at the home of W. W. Wisdom, of Lincoln, Missouri, in December, 1906, and was among the wealthiest, if not the wealthiest man in the county at the time of his death. He accumulated his wealth in the hardware business at Warsaw, Missouri. (See obituary, page 70).

His only living son, (81) W. W. Wisdom, is now and has been for the past twenty years in the mercantile business in Lincoln, Missouri. He also has quite an amount of real estate, and is very wealthy. He married a girl by the name of Harvey, of Lincoln, Missouri. They have five children, two boys and three girls, all of whom are unmarried.

Andrew Jackson Wisdom's daughter (82) Susan married Harvey Fristoe, of Benton County, Missouri. Mr. Fristoe has been a successful stock dealer, and he also owns quite a bit of property. They now live at Windsor, Missouri. As to their children I am unprepared to say how many they have, but they have two boys that I know of.

The following article appeared in a Warsaw, Missouri, paper after the death of A. J. Wisdom, and is the obituary referred to by (95) C. C. Wisdom:

(74) Andrew Jackson Wisdom

"The subject of this sketch was born in the State of Tennessee on the 14th day of May, 1834, and came to Benton County, Missouri, with his parents in the latter part of 1835, where they settled on Hogles Creek, and he resided in this county continuously since that time, except a portion of the year 1905-6, when he resided in Oakland, California, where his rapidly failing health caused his return to Missouri during the past summer; since which time he resided with his son, Wm. W. Wisdom, at Lincoln, until his death, which occurred on the 21st day of December, 1906. On the following day he was laid to rest in the family lot in the Warsaw cemetery.

"Mr. Wisdom's parents were numbered among those sturdy, honest, Christian pioneers who found this country a wilderness, and who, by their industry and frugality, laid the foundation stones on which has been builded this great Commonwealth. Brought up by such parents in an atmosphere of honesty, industry and Christian example, it is not surprising that he grew to manhood possessing those sterling qualities of mind and heart that made his life and character a success, and after filling the full measure of his duties as an upright citizen and Christian man for more than the allotted three score years and ten he laid down his life work and passed to his final rest, an honor to his teaching and a credit to humanity. He was reasonable and liberal in his religious and political beliefs, generous and charitable in his conduct toward his fellow men, and just, fair and honorable in all his dealings. He met every duty that confronted him in life cheerfully and promptly, and was diligent in good works among his fellow men, and his kindly, gentle disposition and upright and lovable character has left a sweet and pleasant memory with all who knew him.

"Mr. Wisdom was married January 14, 1858, to Miss Nancy Campbell, who died May 13, 1877, leaving four children, two of whom are now living, W. W. Wisdom, of Lincoln, and Mrs. Sue Fristoe, of Windsor. On October 19, 1881, he was married to Mrs. Martha A. Huntley, of Cumberland, Maryland, and she died in February, 1899. He was again married on the 17th of October, 1900, to Mrs. Abigail Morley, who survives him. No children were born to the last two marriages.

"In 1877 Mr. Wisdom was appointed by the Governor as collector of revenue of Benton County to fill the unexpired term of E. H. Powers, and at the succeeding election he was elected to the same office, and afterwards when Judge George Gallaher resigned the office of presiding judge of the County Court, he was appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy. During all of his official life Mr. Wisdom performed every duty honestly, conscientiously and justly. From the earliest years of his manhood he was an active, earnest and sincere member of the church, and in his every-day life acted out the Divine principles, which teach the great brotherhood of mankind. But the sturdy, honest and God-fearing generation to which he belonged is fast passing away. The few of his compeers in that earnest, active life of the past that are left look out into the future with a faith and hope for the reward they feel sure he has reached, like children standing on the shores of the restless and murmuring ocean listening to its myrial voices and stretching their arms with confident faith toward the unknown future."

"A Friend."

In her letter dated June 24, 2002, Phyllis Pengilly enclosed family group sheets which stated that Nancy A. Genealogy of the Wisdom family, 1675 to 1910, compiled by George W. Wisdom and published in 1910, stated that:

"(74) Andrew Jackson Wisdom was born in the State of Tennessee on the 14th day of May, 1834, and came to Benton County with his parents in the latter part of 1835. He was first married on the 14th day of January, 1858, to Miss Nancy Campbell, daughter of Nicholas Campbell who was a farmer and stock dealer. His first wife died leaving four children, two of whom are now living: (81) W. W. Wisdom, of Lincoln, Missouri, and (82) Mrs. Susan Fristoe, of Windsor, Henry County, Missouri.

His only living son, (81) W. W. Wisdom, is now and has been for the past twenty years in the mercantile business in Lincoln, Missouri. He also has quite an amount of real estate, and is very wealthy. He married a girl by the name of Harvey, of Lincoln, Missouri. They have five children, two boys and three girls, all of whom are unmarried.

.....
The following article appeared in a Warsaw, Missouri, paper after the death of A. J. Wisdom, and is the obituary referred to by (95) C. C. Wisdom:

(74) Andrew Jackson Wisdom

"Mr. Wisdom was married January 14, 1858, to Miss Nancy Campbell, who died May 13, 1877, leaving four children, two of whom are now living, W. W. Wisdom, of Lincoln, and Mrs. Sue Fristoe, of Windsor.

The will of Louisa A. Campbell dated on April 22, 1912, and probated on July 25 1912, at Johnson County, Missouri, W.B. G/395, listed William Wisdom as a nephew of her deceased husband Wilson A. Campbell:

".....
That I Louisa A Campbell of the City of Holden in the State of Missouri do hereby make publish and declare this instrument as and for my last will and testament

.....
I desire to make and do hereby make the following specific bequests to my relatives and those of my deceased husband Wilson A Campbell to wit;

.....
38 To William Wisdom nephew of my said husband I give devise and bequeath the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars

.....
In Witness Whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my seal and published and declared this instrument to be my last will and testament at the City of Kansas City in Jackson County Missouri this 22 day of April 1912.

Louisa A Campbell

Although referred to as a nephew, this may have been a transcription error and William Wisdom should have been referred to as a grandnephew.

iv. Charles H. Wisdom

Charles H. Wisdom was a son of Nancy Ann (Campbell) Wisdom and Andrew Jackson Wisdom. (1825 Achilles¹, Mary², Nicholas³, Nancy Ann⁴)

The 1880 Census for Benton County, Missouri, listed Charlie Wisdon along with A. J. Wisdon and William Wisdon in the Thomas Proffitt household on June 26, 1880, his relationship as boarder, and his age as 9 and born in Missouri, indicating a date of birth in about 1871.

Findagrave.com listed the gravestone of Charles H. Wisdom in the Warsaw City Cemetery, Warsaw, Benton County, Missouri:

"Charles H. Wisdom
Born
April 1, 1871
Died
Aug. 11, 1883

Genealogy of the Wisdom family, 1675 to 1910, compiled by George W. Wisdom and published in 1910, stated that:

"(74) Andrew Jackson Wisdom was born in the State of Tennessee on the 14th day of May, 1834, and came to Benton County with his parents in the latter part of 1835. He was first married on the 14th day of January, 1858, to Miss Nancy Campbell, daughter of Nicholas Campbell who was a farmer and stock dealer. This record indicates that Charlie Wisdom died before 1910, which is consistent with the gravestone.

b. Rebecca J. (Campbell) (Miller) (Clasby) Collins, Her Husbands Daniel W. Miller, Robert L. Clasby, And Robert Henry Collins, And Her Descendants

Rebecca J. (Campbell) (Miller) (Clasby) Collins was a daughter of Nicholas Campbell and Sarah Ann (Crabtree) (Jones) Campbell. (1825 Achilles¹, Mary², Nicholas³)

The 1850 Census for Benton County, Missouri, listed Rebecca J. Campbell in the Nicholas Campbell household on September 27, 1850, and her age as 8 and born in Missouri, indicating a date of birth in about 1842.

The marriage record of B. J. Campbell and D. W. Miller was dated on July 10, 1859, in Benton County, Missouri:

"To all whom it may concern this is to certify that I H Hubbard solemnized the right of matrimony between D W Miller & Miss B A Campbell on the 10th day of July 1859

H Hubbard M G

Filed for Record July 20th 1859"

Although this record listed her first initial as B, this was probably for Becky, a nickname for Rebecca.

The 1860 Census for Hickory County, Missouri, listed Daniel W. Miller with the following household on August 3, 1860:

Name	Age	Sex	Color	Occupation	Value of Real Estate

This record identifies the family of Robert L. Clasby as follows:

Wife: Dolly Clasby
Children: William Clasby
Charley Clasby
Stepdaughter: Sally ____

This is clearly the family of Robert Clasby set forth in the 1870 Census and indicates that Rebecca J. (Campbell) (Miller) (Clasby) Collins was also known as Dolly. The appointment of Rebecca's father Nicholas Campbell as executor is additional evidence confirming this identification.

On August 1, 1871, at Hickory County, Missouri, Bonds Book B/430, the court appointed Nicholas Campbell as executor of the will of Robert L. Clasby:

John Wesley Quigg Lives Only a Few Minutes After Load of Hay Falls on His Shoulders - Funeral Tomorrow Morning

John Wesley Quigg, aged 68 years, five months and one day, father of Mrs. George E. Farrand, was killed at the Farrand farm four miles east of Pullman yesterday afternoon when a load of hay on which he was riding toppled over, pinning the aged man underneath. Mr. Quigg was driving with the heavy load down a steep hill when for some reason the team failed to hold back the load and cramped the wagon. The rack struck Mr. Quigg across the shoulders, crushing the bones and ribs fearfully. He lived only a few minutes, his life ebbing away before he could be carried to the house.

Funeral services will be held from the Farrand home tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock. Mr. Quigg was a widower, and is survived by nine grown children. He came here from Missouri about four years ago, and for the greater part of that time has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Farrand."

schools, finishing then his formal education at Warrensburg Norma. In company with Grant Gardner, Johnny Carroll Pitts, Frank McCaslin, Geo. Gardner and several others he then went to California for several years.

Returning to Wheatland he was united in marriage to Nancy J. Collins December 27, 1893. To this union was born three children, Fay, Frieda and Lee. Frieda preceded her father in death 24 years ago.

Charley spent all his life in Hickory county with the exception of a few years in Joplin. As a cattleman and trader he knew every foot of land in Hickory and adjoining counties. As an active and influential leader in politics, he knew almost every man, woman and child. Charley was widely known among politicians in the state, as has been shown by the letters received by his wife these last two weeks.

He spent almost ten years in Jefferson City as an employee of the State - a time which he greatly enjoyed.

Charley had friends everywhere, in his home county, in the State.

His philosophy was to live and let live. he enjoyed life, he enjoyed his home and his loved ones. His grandchildren and great grandchildren adored him, affectionately looking to "Poppy" for guidance and companionship.

Several years ago Charley made a confession of faith in a season of prayer with his dear friend, Arthur T. Lindsey.

His passing came unexpectedly on the afternoon of May 23, 1947. Thus a busy and useful life came to a close.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, May 27, at 2 P. M. at the Congregational Christian church in Weaubleau, Rev. Roy C. Reichert very ably conducting with the assistance of Judge Arthur T. Lindsey of Clinton, Mo. and Rev. Wm. Hopkins of the Weaubleau Baptist church. Judge Lindsey recited the beautiful 103rd Psalm as scripture and prayer. In the significant and understanding words of the three the family now take great consolation.

The large attendance for a week day and the beautiful flowers from all over the State as well as friends at home attested to the love in which he was held.

He is survived by his wife, Nancy J., daughter, Mrs Earl Swicegood, son Lee Brookshire of Kansas City; one brother, Dr. W. H. Brookshire of Joplin; one sister Mrs V. A. Looney of Rogers, Ark. 8 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren, and many relatives who loved him dearly.

Interment was in Robinson cemetery."

Newspapers.com listed the following obituary for Mrs. F. M. Lane dated August 9, 1916, in the Weekly Journal-Miner, Prescott, Arizona:

"Woman Killed By Lightning In Farmacyard

Second Death In Week From Severe Electrical Storms; Four Girls Are Motherless

(From Friday's Daily.)

Struck by a bolt of lightning while closing the farmyard gate, Mrs. Frank M. Lane, of Skull valley was instantly killed Wednesday night shortly after dusk. Mrs. Lane had left her four daughters, ranging in age from two to 16 years, in the house while she went out into the yard to attend to the evening chores during a severe electrical storm.

All through the night the children did not know where their mother was and yesterday morning when the eldest daughter started in search, she found her dead at the gate about 200 feet from the house. The girl then ran to Skull valley station more than a mile away and notified the authorities there, who in turn notified Chas. H. McLand, coroner.

Coroner McLane and jury left for the scene of the fatality shortly after eight o'clock yesterday morning. In its investigation, the jury found that Mrs. Lane was not seriously burned but that the bolt had struck the back of her head and continued down the body, ripping off the left shoe. Her back and dress were burned in several places. Mrs. Lane was 39 years old and leaves a husband and four daughters. The family was living on a Skull valley dry farm.

When Frank Lane, the husband, who is employed at Humboldt, was notified, he immediately came to Prescott, arriving here yesterday afternoon. The children of the family have been cared for by neighbors.

The body is at Ruffner's mortuary and funeral services will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The death of Mrs. Lane is the second in a week resulting from severe lightning storms. A Mexican teamster was killed at Puntteney the last of last week while loading wood on a wagon. Three horses were killed at the same time."

The marriage record of Minnie E. Campbell and Simon H. Morgan dated on November 26, 1903, in Dayton, Columbia County, Washington, listed her parents as Albert M. Campbell and Sarah J. Kays and her age as 25 and born in Texas, indicating a date of birth in about 1878.

In her letter dated June 24, 2002, Phyllis Pengilly enclosed family group sheets which stated that Albert M. Campbell was a son of Nicholas Campbell and Sarah Anne (Crabtree) (Jones) Campbell, was born on November 15, 1846, in Benton County, Missouri, married Sarah Jane Kays on December 20, 1866, in Benton County, Missouri, and resided in 1879 in Dallas, Texas, that Sarah Jane (Kays) Campbell was born on August 3, 1846, in Benton County, Missouri, and died on March 25, 1887, in Benton County, Missouri, and that Albert M. Campbell and Sarah Jane (Kays) Campbell had the following children:

- 1) Ada Campbell, born on September 27, 1872,
- 2) William A. Campbell, born in January 1874,

- 3) Minnie Elizabeth Campbell, born in 1879 in Dallas, Texas,
- 4) Morey Campbell, born on March 27, 1881.

There was a second Albert M. Campbell who might be confused with the Albert M. Campbell who married Sarah J. Kays. The Placer Herald published the marriage of Albert M. Campbell and Elizabeth R. Brown on June 10, 1905, in Auburn, California. The 1920 Census for Oakland, Alameda County, California, listed Albert M. Campbell and Elizabeth R. Campbell and his age as 73 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1847. The 1930 Census for Sonoma County, California, listed Albert M. Campbell and Elizabeth R. Campbell and his age as 84 and born in Kentucky, indicating a date of birth in about 1846. The death record of Albert M. Campbell dated on January 5, 1934, in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California, listed his age as 87 years, 1 month, and 2 days, indicating a date of birth on December 3, 1846, and his place of birth in Kentucky. The obituary of Albert M. Campbell dated January 8, 1934, in the Healdsburg Tribune stated that he was a native of Louisville, Kentucky. Albert M. Campbell who married Sarah J. Kays was consistently listed in the census records as born in Missouri and although this California Albert M. Campbell had the same name and approximately the same year of birth, the consistent listing of his place of birth as in Kentucky indicates that there were two different Albert M. Campbells in these records.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of Albert M. Campbell and Sarah J. (Kays) Campbell were the following:

- 1) Ada Campbell, born on September 27, 1872,
- 2) William A. Campbell, born in January 1874,
- 3) Minnie Elizabeth (Campbell) Morgan, born in August 1878 or on August 27, 1879, in Dallas County, Texas, and
- 4) Morey Campbell, born on March 27, 1881.

ii. William A. Campbell

William A. Campbell was a son of Albert M. Campbell and Sarah J. (Kays) Campbell. (1825 Achilles¹, Mary², Nicholas³, Albert M.⁴)

In her letter dated June 24, 2002, Phyllis Pengilly enclosed family group sheets which stated that William A. Campbell was a son of Albert M. Campbell and Sarah Jane (Kays) Campbell, was born in January 1874, and died on March 3, 1874.

iii. Minnie Elizabeth (Campbell) Morgan, Her Husband
Simon Hayes Morgan, And Her Descendants

Minnie Elizabeth (Campbell) Morgan was a daughter of Albert M. Campbell and Sarah J. (Kays) Campbell. (1825 Achilles¹, Mary², Nicholas³, Albert M.⁴)

The marriage record of Minnie Campbell, daughter of Albert M. Campbell and Sarah J. Kays, and Simon H. Morgan was dated on November 26, 1903, in Dayton, Columbia County, Washington:

U.S. City Directories, 1821-1989, available from Ancestry.com, listed Dora F. McCracken, widow of James N., in Springfield, Missouri, in 1920 and 1935.

In her letter dated June 24, 2002, Phyllis Pengilly enclosed family group sheets which stated that Elizabeth Virginia Campbell was a daughter of Nicholas Campbell and Sarah Anne (Crabtree) (Jones) Campbell, was born in about 1849 in Benton County, Missouri, and married James N. McCracken on May 14, 1868, in Benton County, Missouri, and that James N. McCracken was born in about 1844.

From the evidence set forth above and additional evidence set forth below, the children of Elizabeth Virginia (Campbell) McCracken and James N. McCracken were the following:

- 1) Sarah A. "Missie" McCracken, born in about 1869 in Missouri,
- 2) Flora D. (McCracken) Miles, born on January 22, 1871, or in about 1872 in Hickory County, Missouri,

i. Sarah A. "Missie" McCracken

Sarah A. "Missie" McCracken was a daughter of Elizabeth Virginia (Campbell) McCracken and James N. McCracken. (1825 Achilles¹, Mary², Nicholas³, Elizabeth Virginia⁴)

The 1900 Census for Park County, Montana, listed Virginia E. McCracken in the James N. McCracken household on June 14, 1900, and that she had had 4 children, of whom 3 were then living. That record is consistent with the death of Missie McCracken in 1878 and in conjunction with the gravestone listing, indicates that Sarah A. McCracken was also known as Missie McCracken.

"Died In Missouri.

Former Well Known Billings People Pass Away.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Seldom does death lay a heavier burden than he imposed upon Mr. Claude McCracken yesterday, when within a few hours she lost a sister and a brother. Both died at Humansville, Mo., and both were well known here. The brother, Henry John, died at 6 o'clock in the morning and news of his demise was forwarded in a telegram to Mrs. McCracken. Last evening the sister, Miss Stella John, succumbed to the same disease, smallpox.

Miss John, while here, was employed in the millinery department of the Donovan-McCormick company. She left the city some months ago. The brother for a time was in Mr. McCracken's employ and returned to Missouri about a year ago. Another brother, Edgar, is also sick with the same malady. He has been in charge of Mr. McCracken's Joliet store and went home on a visit, leaving Billings January 11. He was sick at the time of his departure, although not seriously so, and smallpox developed a few days after his arrival at Humansville.

The disease is said to be quite prevalent throughout Missouri, particularly about Springfield, where several hundred cases were reported last month, and in the section about Humansville."
